THERE'S A TIME AND PLACE FOR US . . .

For us there will always be a season warmed by rays emitted from the sun; a season of knowledge and understanding, a season of friendship and hope. Most important is the season of spirit, which is the very foundation which North Crawford is built upon. For all of us, there is a time and purpose to be sought. If a light should appear faint and not within our grasp, and should memories fail, this purpose will always bind us together. Our common bond will be built upon a desire to strive for what appears unattainable, to carry the heavy load when others find it burdensome, and to search for truth. Because of the high standards we have set as patriots of North Crawford Senior High School, it is inevitable that each of us shall find his place under the sun.

..... A PLACE FOR EVERY PURPOSE

A TIME TO CHEER...

A TIME TO WORK...

A TIME TO CONCENTRATE...

A TIME TO LOVE...

A TIME TO BE SAD...

A TIME TO RELAX...

A TIME TO DO YOUR THING . . .

A TIME TO GOOF-OFF . . .

..... AND A TIME TO PRAISE

A secretary plays and fulfills many roles in her daily tasks at a senior high school. She must have a pleasant personality and have an attractive appearance . . . be intelligent, dependable and thoughtful. She must be sympathetic when the need arises . . . no matter how small the problem may seem. She must be patient and willing to listen. She must be a friend . . . a source of help. She must be understanding . . . honest and unselfish. She must possess spirit . . . enthusiasm . . . interest . . . a sense of humor . . . and abound with energy.

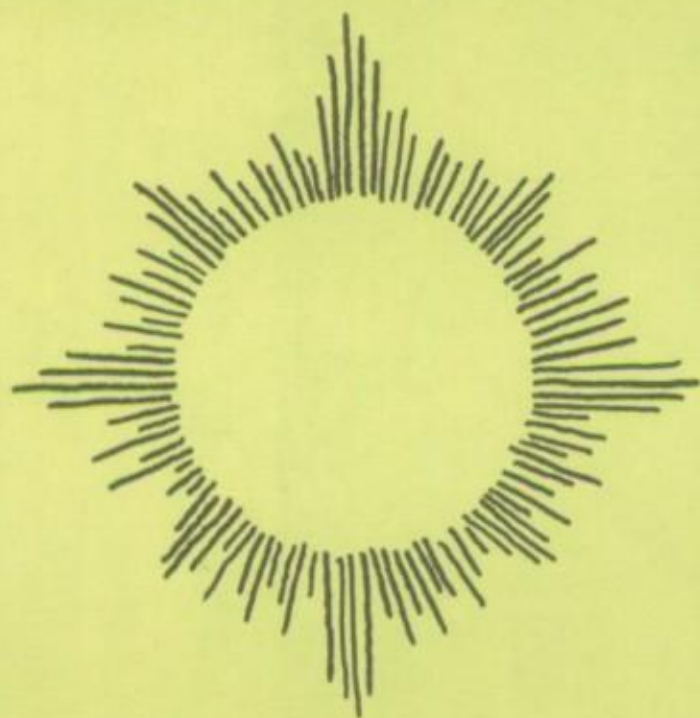

Mrs. Janet Teach, known to all students and faculty as Janet, possesses all of these characteristics. Janet is always willing to help others . . . dedicated to the idea of making North Crawford shine brightly. Because of her dedication and her understanding of others, Janet is seen by the students and faculty as a friend. It is with admiration and respect that the yearbook staff dedicate TROJAN 71 to Mrs. Janet Teach. There will always be a place for you, Janet, a place under the sun.

"TO EVERYTHING
THERE IS A
SEASON . . .
AND A TIME AND PLACE TO
EVERY PURPOSE
UNDER THE SUN."

There is a time and place for many purposes under the sun.

It is a time to LEAD, both to guide ourselves and to guide each other throughout life;

It is a time to LAUGH, both at our lighter moments of today and at our puerile mistakes of yesterday;

It is a time to PLAN, both to remain united and to prepare ourselves for the future;

It is a time to CHEER, not only of our personal victories but of those of our fellow man;

It is a time to CONCENTRATE, both to develop what we already know and to try to reach a little beyond;

It is a time to LOVE, not only our friends and relatives, but all our fellow man;

It is a time to WORK, both to put our experiences to practice and to make ourselves more capable of the future;

It is a time to be SAD, both the sadness of departure and the sentimental tears of joy;

It is a time to be PROUD, both of our accomplishments and those of our parents who have helped us thus far;

It is a time to RELAX, both to regain our strength from physical and mental strains of today and for those of tomorrow;

It is a time TO DO YOUR THING, not to impress, but because it is part of the game we play;

It is a time to GOOF-OFF, because we are young at heart and because there is a little "devil" in all of us;

Moreover, it is a time to PRAISE, not only to those who have helped us to achieve, but to all who have succeeded in their achievements.

"To everything there is a season . . . and a place and time to every purpose under the sun."

"Hi, my name is Laurie Moran."

The Man Haldlers

"One more bite and I think I will garp!"

"You think I really care!"

"Now let me see, is this a football game or a basketball game?"

"This dress code is something else."

"Watch the slide rule, Donna."

LEADERSHIP

Inquisitively exploring the limitless realm of knowledge, North Crawford students pursue an education assisted by a willing and helpful faculty. Teachers direct our exploratory venture into the world of academics with understanding and encouragement. They realize the needs our education must fill and carefully mold their teaching material to fit those needs. With the guiding light of a concerned faculty, North Crawford students travel the corridors of success.

Mr. Cyril W. Barnes, Superintendent of Schools. He received his Bachelor of Science Degree in Education from Wisconsin State University, Eau Claire; Master of Science Degree in School Administration and Supervision from University of Wisconsin at Madison; and has done additional work towards a Specialists Degree—Advanced School Administration and Supervision at the University of Iowa, Iowa City.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

JR. HIGH PRINCIPAL

Principal at the junior high in Soldiers Grove is Mr. Dennis Pratt.

SENIOR HIGH PRINCIPAL

Principal at North Crawford Senior High is Mr. Lorwin E. Shook.

SUPERVISOR COORDINATOR

District Supervisor Coordinator for the school district is Mrs. Magda Olson.

SCHOOL BOARD

SCHOOL MEMBERS—SEATED: Mr. Harold Dull, Asst. Director; Mr. David Moore, Clerk; Mr. Wendell Showen, Director; Mr. Walter Raha, Treasurer; Mr. Marcellus Sherry, Member. STANDING: Mr. James Leary, Member; Mr. Paul Murphy, Member.

Mrs. Minnie Kegel: Senior High English III-IV, Senior Class Adviser, National Honor Society Adviser.

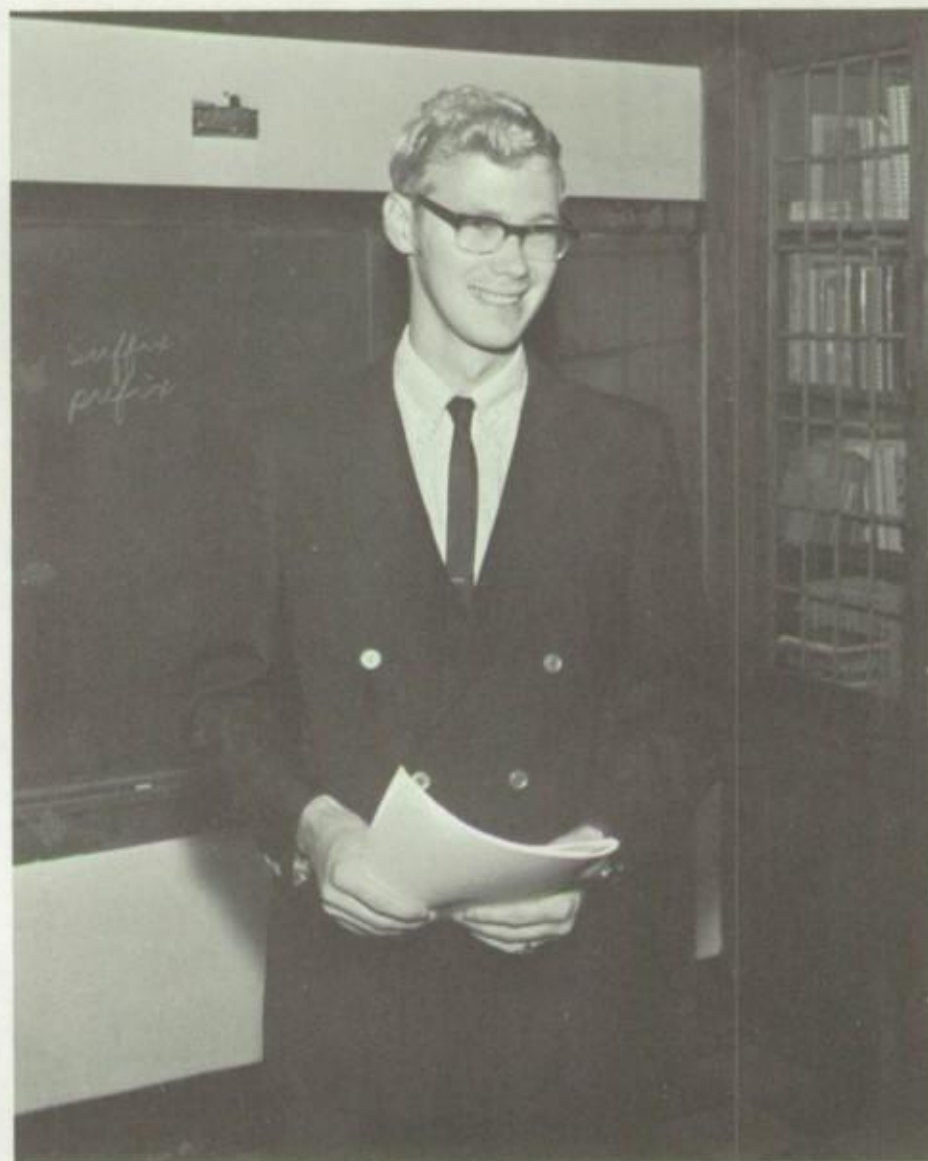

ENGLISH SPEAKS FOR ITSELF

Infinitives, prepositions, gerunds, transitive sentences, and past verbs—is that all there is to English? No! Fortunately. Everyone who has participated in any of the English courses offered here at North Crawford knows this.

Literature, which is a major part of the course, offers the reader an escape to an entirely different world. It might be one of suspense, fantasy, poetry, or just plain facts. Regardless, as one reads fine literature, he not only is entertained, but he is introduced into the ideas of another time, people, and culture. Two main objectives of a literature course are: to develop a sensitivity and appreciation of fine literature; and to develop a lifelong interest in reading.

Another important aspect of English is speech. The major objective is to acquire an ability to communicate clearly and well.

So, even though grammar is necessary, there are many other important realms of English waiting to be explored.

Mr. David Natwick: Senior High English II, French I-II, Speech, Senior High Forensics Adviser, French Club Adviser, Sophomore Class Adviser.

GRAMMAR—THE BASIS, KNOWLEDGE—THE RESULT

LANGUAGES . . . TOOLS OF FRIENDSHIP AND PEACE

The main source of communication is based upon language. Included in the Language Department this year are two years of French. With an increased supply of tapes, records, and other instructional materials, French students were exposed to a more "natural" setting. Vocabulary, grammar, reading, and composition prepared the student to handle the more advanced work.

Science is very important in the world today, and through the science courses offered here, students are able to begin the exploration of this vast field.

A science course promotes many interesting activities, such as chemistry projects, reports, and biology dissections.

In many cases, a science course has provided the introduction to a future career or profession. In all cases, each student who has participated in a science course has become a richer person because he better understands and appreciates the mysteries of the world around him.

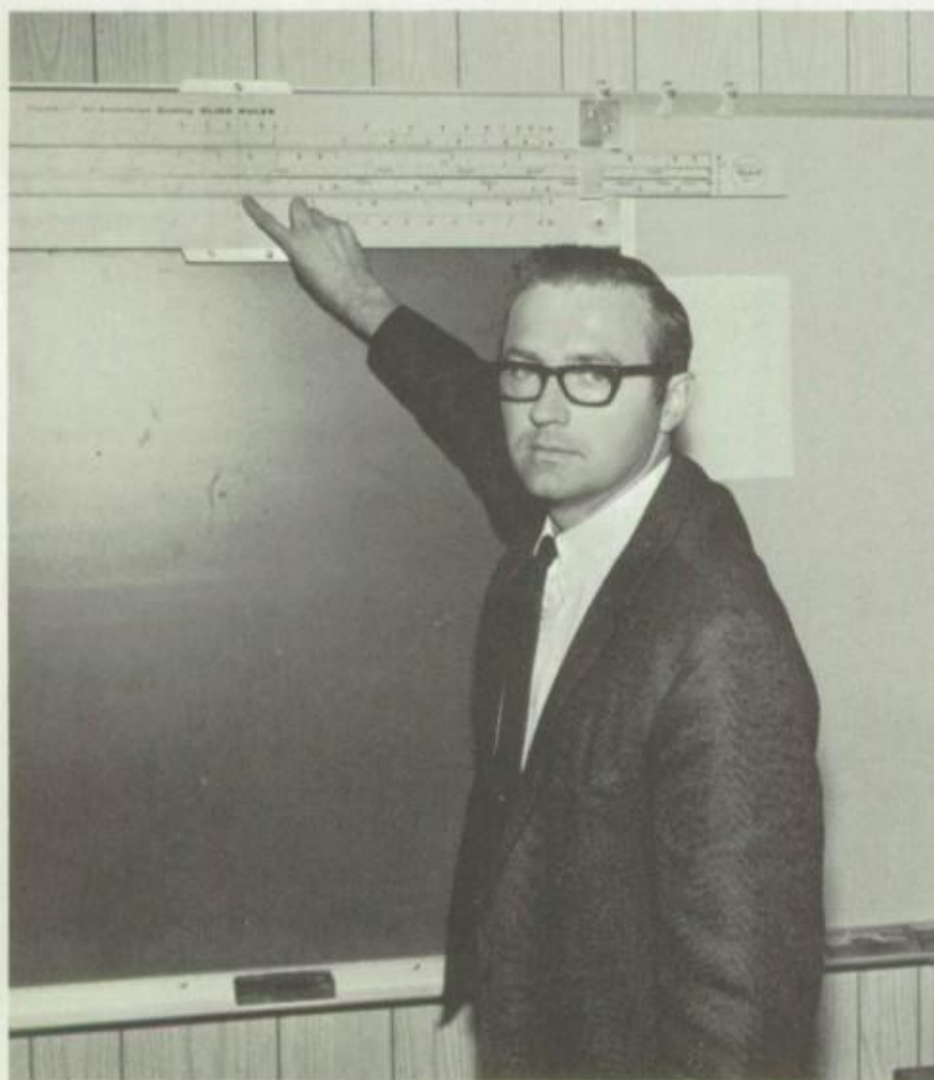

JOURNEY INTO THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

MATH IS THE ANGLE TOWARD SUCCESS

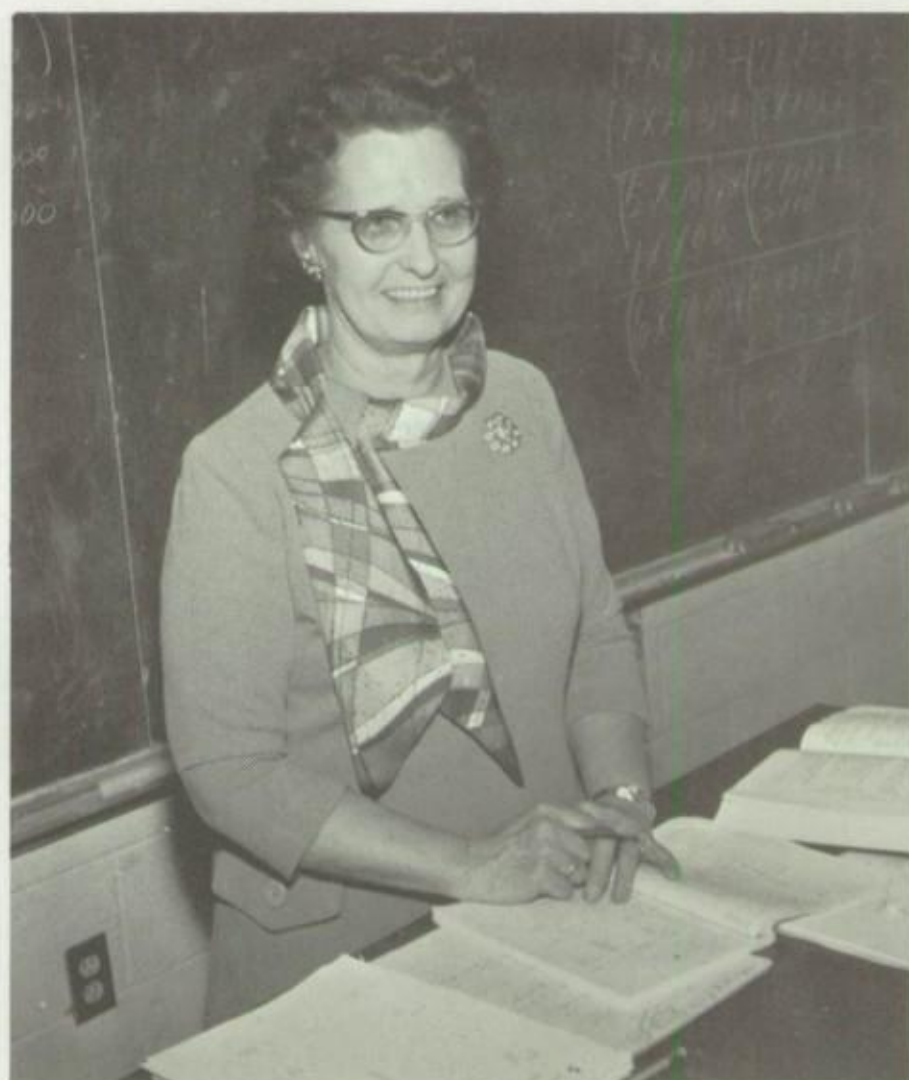

Mr. Ronald Cuchna: Senior High Geometry, Algebra II, Analytic Geometry, Trigonometry, Junior Class Adviser, Student Council Adviser.

Solving equations for x and y seemed to be a never ending task to algebra students. Algebra I laid the basic groundwork to the algebraic concepts as simple binomial equations were factored and written. Algebra II students were able to build on this groundwork learning more complicated factoring processes for more difficult equations. Complex and irrational numbers, logarithms, and probability challenged Algebra II Students.

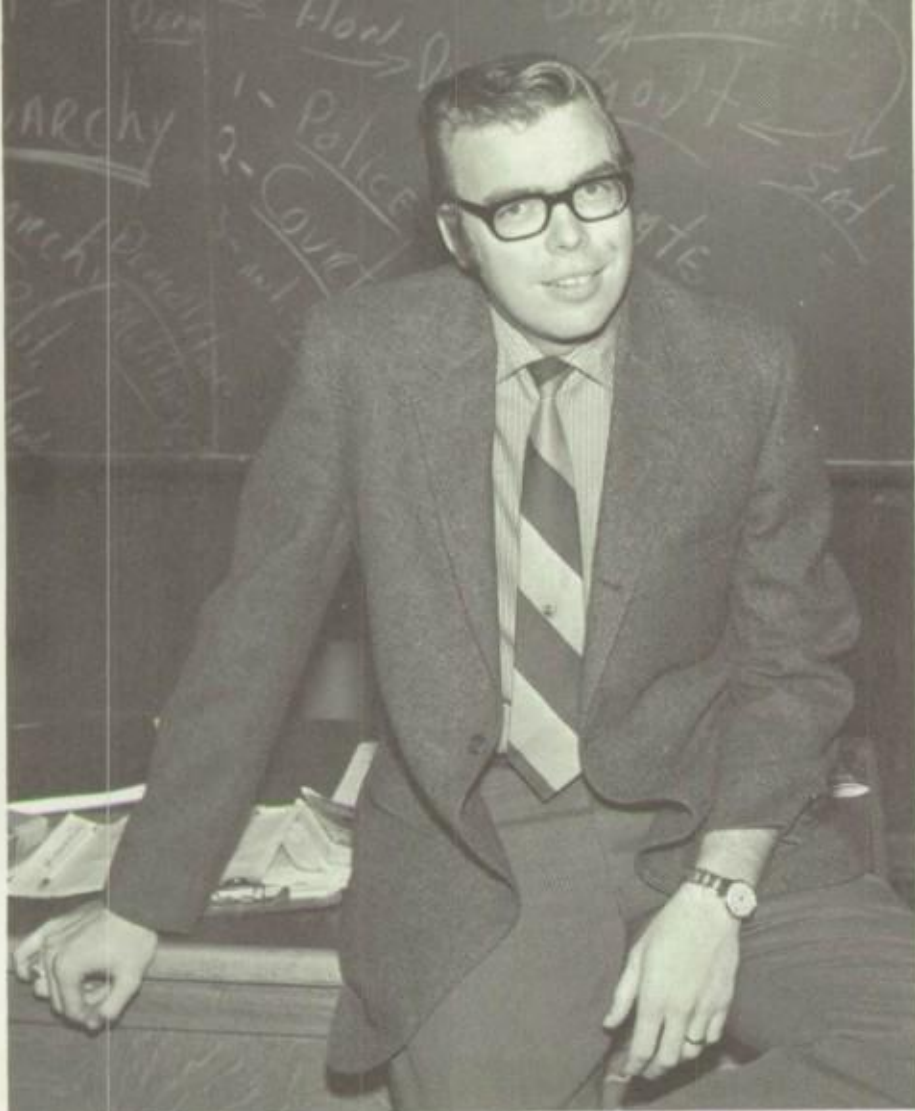

Compasses and straight edges became familiar tools to geometry students as they constructed many lines, curves, and figures. Writing proofs helped them learn to use precise language and to think in a clear, precise, and creative way.

Preparing students for a math-oriented college program, senior math provided an understanding of many of the phases in the math field. Plane geometric concepts were extended as solid and analytical geometry were delved into. Trigonometric identities and functions enabled the students to become more adept in using triangles. Probability and statistics and an introduction to calculus were also included in the course.

Because of the wide range of math courses offered here at North Crawford, students are able to advance to different levels—from learning the fundamentals and practical applications of arithmetic to compiling and understanding statistical data. However, in all of these courses, one important objective is to encourage all students to have a genuine interest in mathematics.

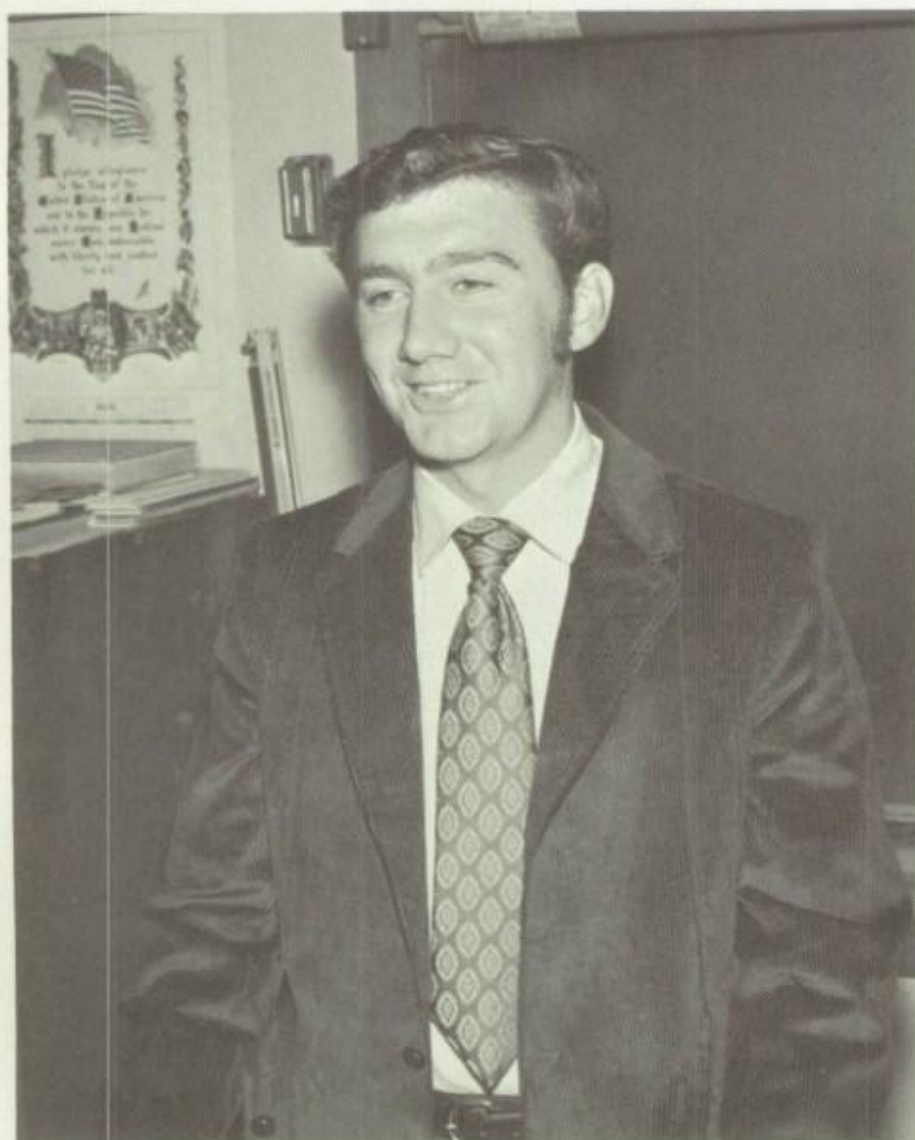

Mrs. Bernilda Lee: Junior High Math and Science.

LOST IN PAST AND INVOLVED IN PRESENT

Is there anything more fascinating than the study of man? To trace his development through progressive decades while delving into his achievements and retrogressions is perhaps the best yardstick with which to measure our astounding naked ape and his world today. By reconstructing the rise and fall of great civilizations of an uncomprehensible aggregation of years past, we can link ourselves to cultures that are now nonexistent and whose ways and means of living have diminished with the years. With this study of the past, we can relate better to our own highly complex and perplexing world of today, and can better define our own roles in our contemporary life. We can put perspective into our own values in life and can travel the roads of life aided by the rear view mirror of history.

Striving to prepare students for future experiences in the business world is the primary purpose of the Business Education Department. Students in office practice learned to duplicate, keep various records, operate and understand the IBM Key Punch machine, and the use of adding machines, calculators, and various other machines. Shorthand students learned to read notes and then to master dictation. Typing students perfected a skill which would last them a lifetime. Students in bookkeeping worked out practice sets and kept complete records of business transactions which were comparable to real-life situations.

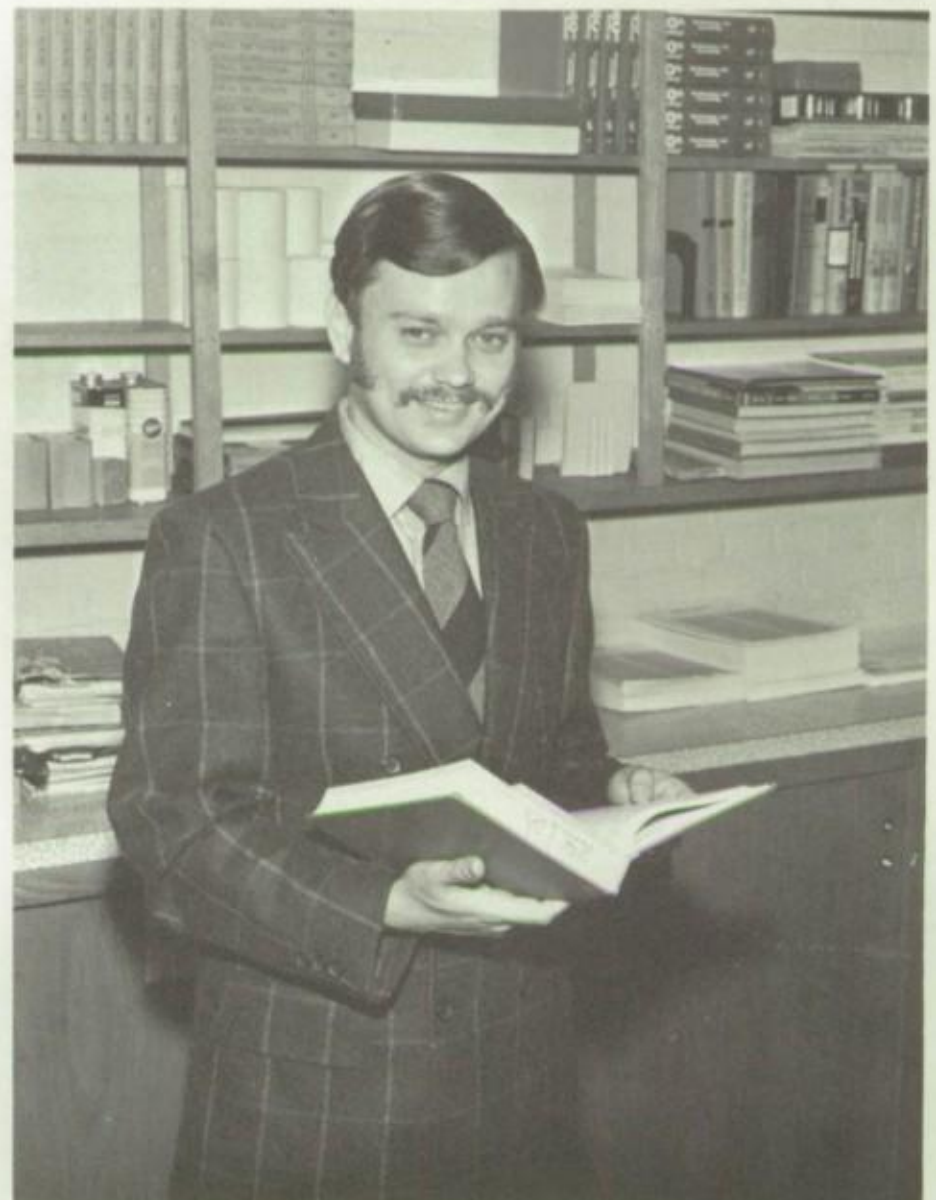

Business courses offer students the opportunity to acquire a basic business education, provide for the experience needed for a future vocation, and contribute to the general student's needs. How else can you learn to type those term papers or take good, precise notes?

North Crawford has one of the largest Business Education Departments in the surrounding area schools. Courses in typewriting I-II, bookkeeping I-II, shorthand I-II, office practice, personal typewriting, note taking, and IBM Key Punch are available for the students. Next year general business will be offered to the freshman class at the junior high and the office practice classes will be going into a Capstone Course, a course designed for the vocationally-minded students.

For those interested in a future business vocation, instruction is offered and skill acquired in typewriting, shorthand, bookkeeping, office practice, and other business courses. Students also learn the personal qualities and attitudes which are necessary for successful immediate employment upon graduation from high school.

Mrs. Joan Davig: Senior High Typewriting I-II, Office Practice, Personal Typewriting, IBM Key Punch, Sophomore Class Adviser.

Mr. John Schuth: Senior High Bookkeeping I-II, Shorthand I-II, Notehand, TROJAN Yearbook Adviser, Student Council Adviser, Chess Club Adviser.

JEANIE THOFTNE SECOND PLACE WINNER IN STATE TYPING COMPETITION

Jeanie Thoftne, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Andrew Thoftne of Soldiers Grove, was the second place winner in interschool advanced typing competition in Wisconsin during the month of November according to Madison Business College, the originator of the test.

Jeanie, a senior at North Crawford, typed for five minutes with 69 net words a minute with only two errors.

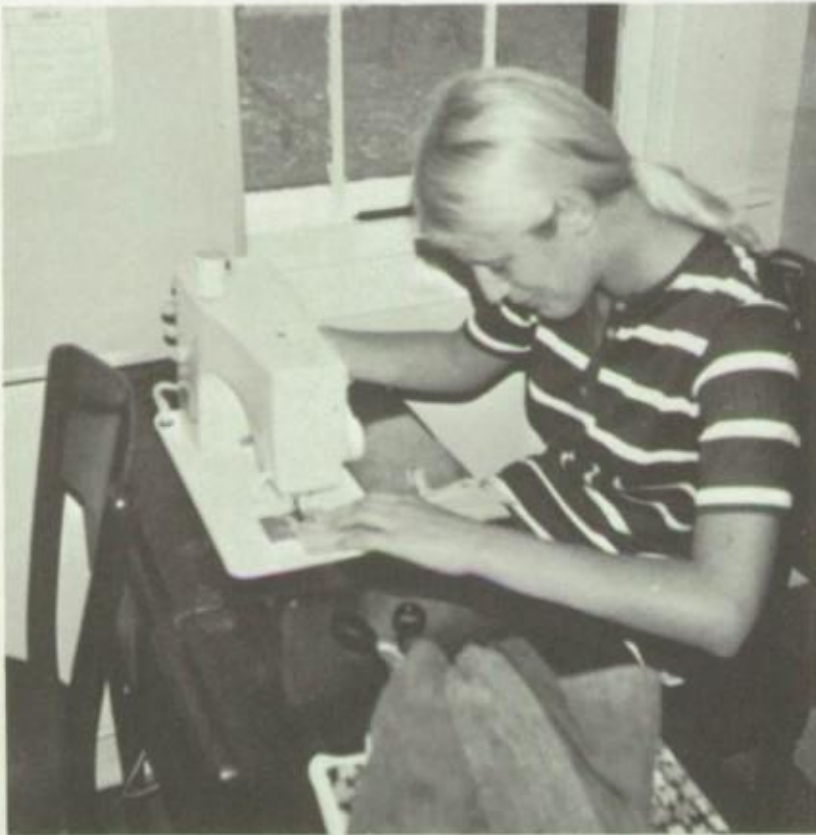

BUSINESSMEN OF FUTURE TRAINED

With feet flat on the floor and eyes on the book are the basic, general rules for beginning typewriting. However, Susan Wedenberg and class (at Left) seem that by closing their eyes, location of the keys on the keyboard will be quickly remembered.

GIRLS PREPARE FOR FUTURE HOME LIVES

One of the main goals of the Home Economics Department is to develop an increased understanding and broader interest in assuming responsibilities for improvement of home and family life. Whether in foods, clothing, or child care, students gain experience in the fundamentals of adulthood. Through the sewing of garments or the cooking of assorted confections, girls are given a chance to test their own skills. Subjects which are of special interest to teens such as personality, babysitting, and personal appearance are also covered. Home and family care offered to the students give a "bird's eye view" of the responsibilities of tomorrow's world.

Sewing and mending garments is one subject area that is taught in beginning and advanced Home Ec. classes. Here, Lois Dull busily constructs a garment at the sewing machine.

BOYS LEARN HOMEMAKING SKILLS

Home Economic courses are not only limited to girls at North Crawford. Boys, and many of them, take beginning Home Ec. classes as an elective. In the beginning classes, boys and girls study the comprehensive areas of homemaking and personal care of themselves. Time and money management, sewing and mending a garment, and the preparing of a simple meal are covered. For the girls, babysitting with one to five year olds is always a favorite.

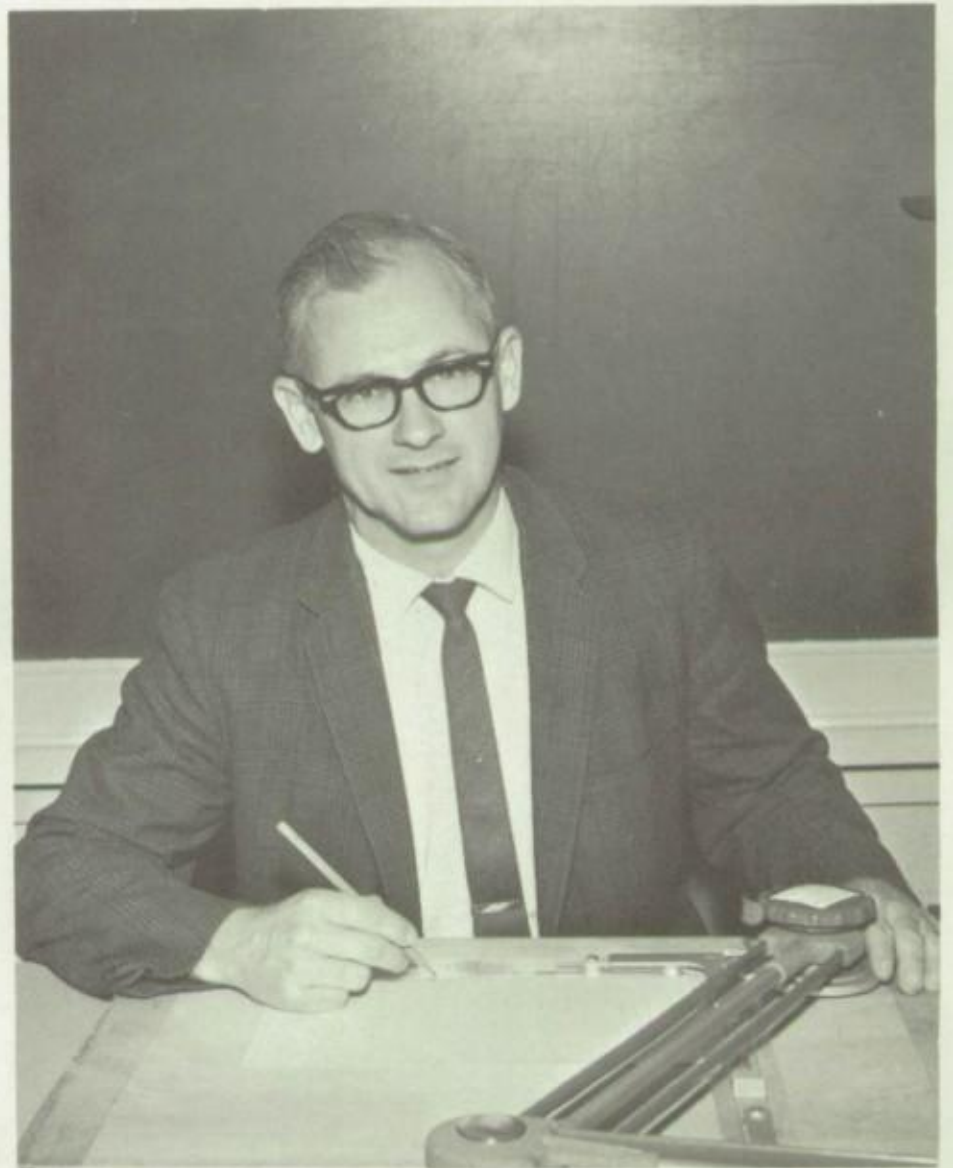

In the more advanced courses, girls study buying of clothes, textiles, and clothes in our lives. Housing, furnishing a home, and buying a home are some of the subject courses. They also learn to prepare large family meals, buy family clothing, and how to apportion their time and energy to finish their work.

Pictured above and at the left is a class of junior boys in beginning Home Economics. Although the boys have to do all of the chores that are involved in a kitchen, they enjoy the class and find it interesting and helpful.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS . . . PRODUCTS, PROCESSES, AND TOOLS OF INDUSTRY

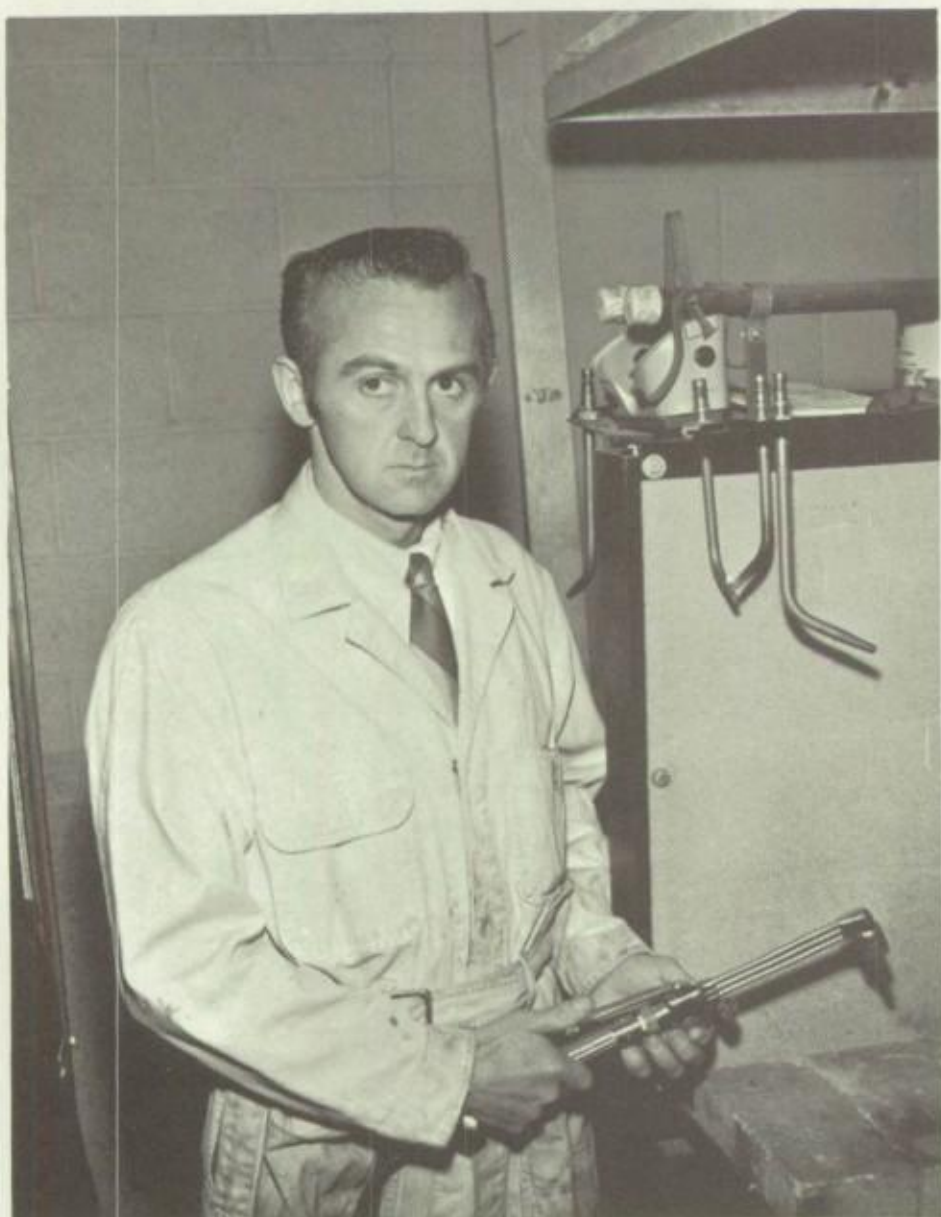

The industrial education program at North Crawford is open to all students. Both general and specialized courses are provided in order to meet the needs of the students. Industrial arts, primarily an exploratory type situation, is generally taken by those interested in general consumer knowledge, designing, engineering, pre-vocational experience, etc. Vocational areas such as basic electricity, drafting, wood-working, welding, and agriculture mechanics are offered for those seeking jobs after graduation in some specific area, or for those going into further technical education.

AGRICULTURE . . . A MUST FOR FUTURE FARMERS

Agriculture classes were organized around the concept of developing a well-rounded background to allow students a better understanding of the occupations related to this area. Practical skills and various methods of soil conservation were stressed to the students enrolled in the agriculture classes.

MUSIC—A COMMUNICATION ALL ITS OWN

Music is a communication all its own. It has something to impart to its listeners—whether it be joy, sorrow, exaltation, or serenity. Music has the potential to make a person a fuller, more enriched individual, and students are offered this opportunity here at North Crawford through instrumental and choral classes.

During the school year, concerts, workshops, pep rallies, parades, and contests keep the students busy. Helping during the year are student directors in chorus, pep band, and concert band.

TOP: At the beginning of the school year, both junior high and senior high students were in the pep band. The pep band is pictured above playing at the senior high homecoming bonfire. BOTTOM: Dave Barlow draws a group of admirers as he displays his skill and ability in playing the tuba at an afternoon pep rally.

Guidance counselors were kept busy with students problems during the school year. Revision of the student handbook was made so that it would assist the student to project year by year counseling. The counselors were here to understand the students needs and desires, help the students with educational problems and vocational adjustments, and to prepare students to develop realistic goals.

Mrs. Iverson orientated the freshman class. Mr. Martin worked with the sophomores and juniors to plan their schedules and helped the seniors make plans for after high school graduation. AT RIGHT, Senior Bonnie Swiggum checks the college and vocational school catalogs in the guidance office.

Mrs. Phyllis Iverson: Junior High Guidance, Junior High English, Junior High Student Council Adviser, Junior High Forensics Adviser.

Senior Lana Davig seeks help and advice from guidance counselor, Mr. Martin.

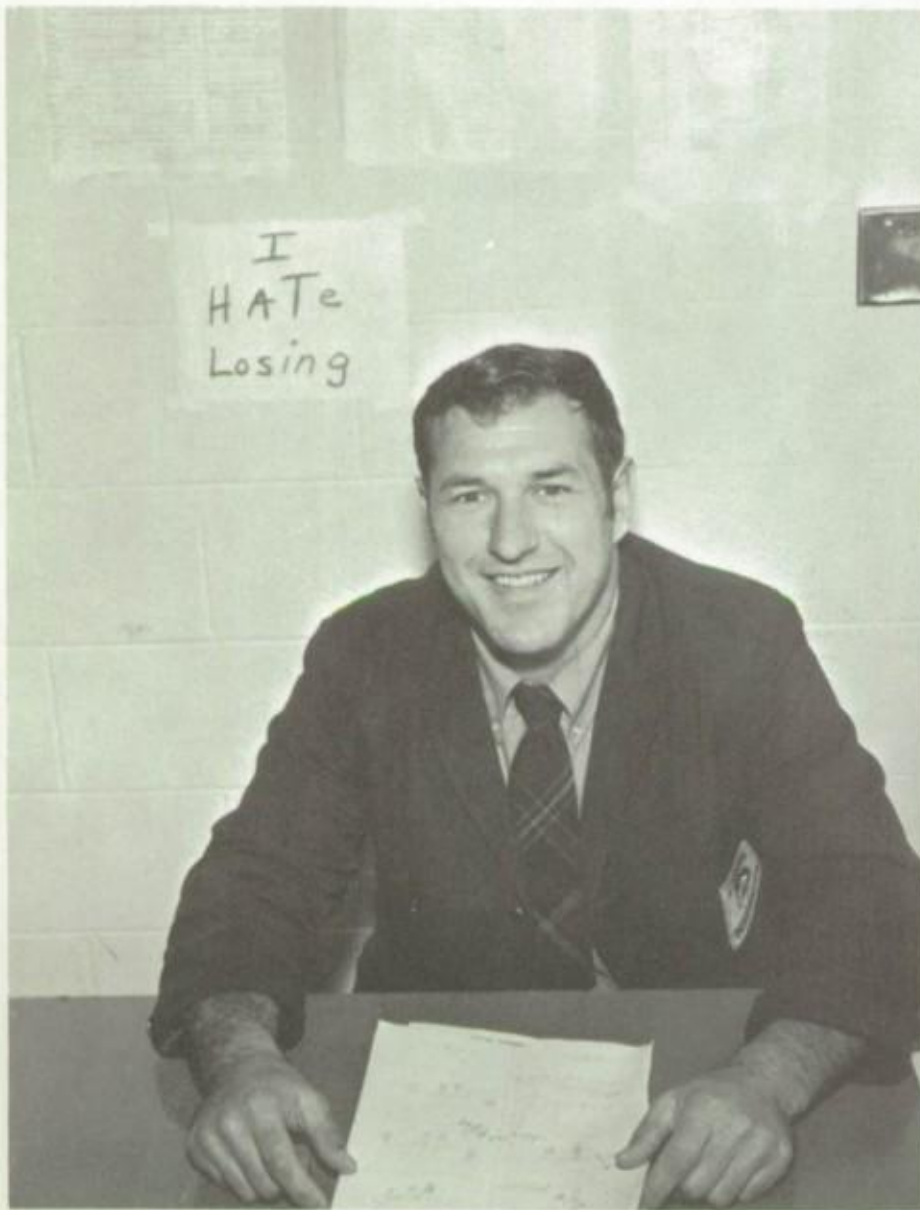

A LIBRARY—A GOLDEN TREASURY OF THOUGHTS

Because of its various functions, North Crawford's library may be more accurately termed as an instructional study hall center. Beside having thousands of books available to students for research and reading, the library also offers a wide selection of current magazines, newspapers, and pamphlets on various topics. LEFT: Mrs. Dorothy Halloran: Senior-Junior High Librarian, Library Club Adviser.

RELAX—EXCERCISE AND FUN ARE ONLY A GROAN AWAY

Striving to develop skill, strength, and endurance within students, physical education classes built better attitudes and ideals as well. While accomplishing these objectives, the students were exposed to a variety of activities. Individual help was given to those who wished to participate in athletic competition. For the boys, cross country, football, basketball, wrestling, baseball, and track were given. The instruction in the basic skills of these sports and the various class activities forms a foundation for carrying over these skills into adult life, thus enabling the adult to gain profitable exercise during leisure time.

Mr. Bruce Kieser: Senior High Boys Physical Education, Health, Athletic Director, Varsity Football Coach, Varsity Basketball Coach, Varsity Track Coach.

Mrs. Ruth Orrick: Senior-Junior High Girls Physical Education, Junior Class Adviser, Cheerleaders Adviser.

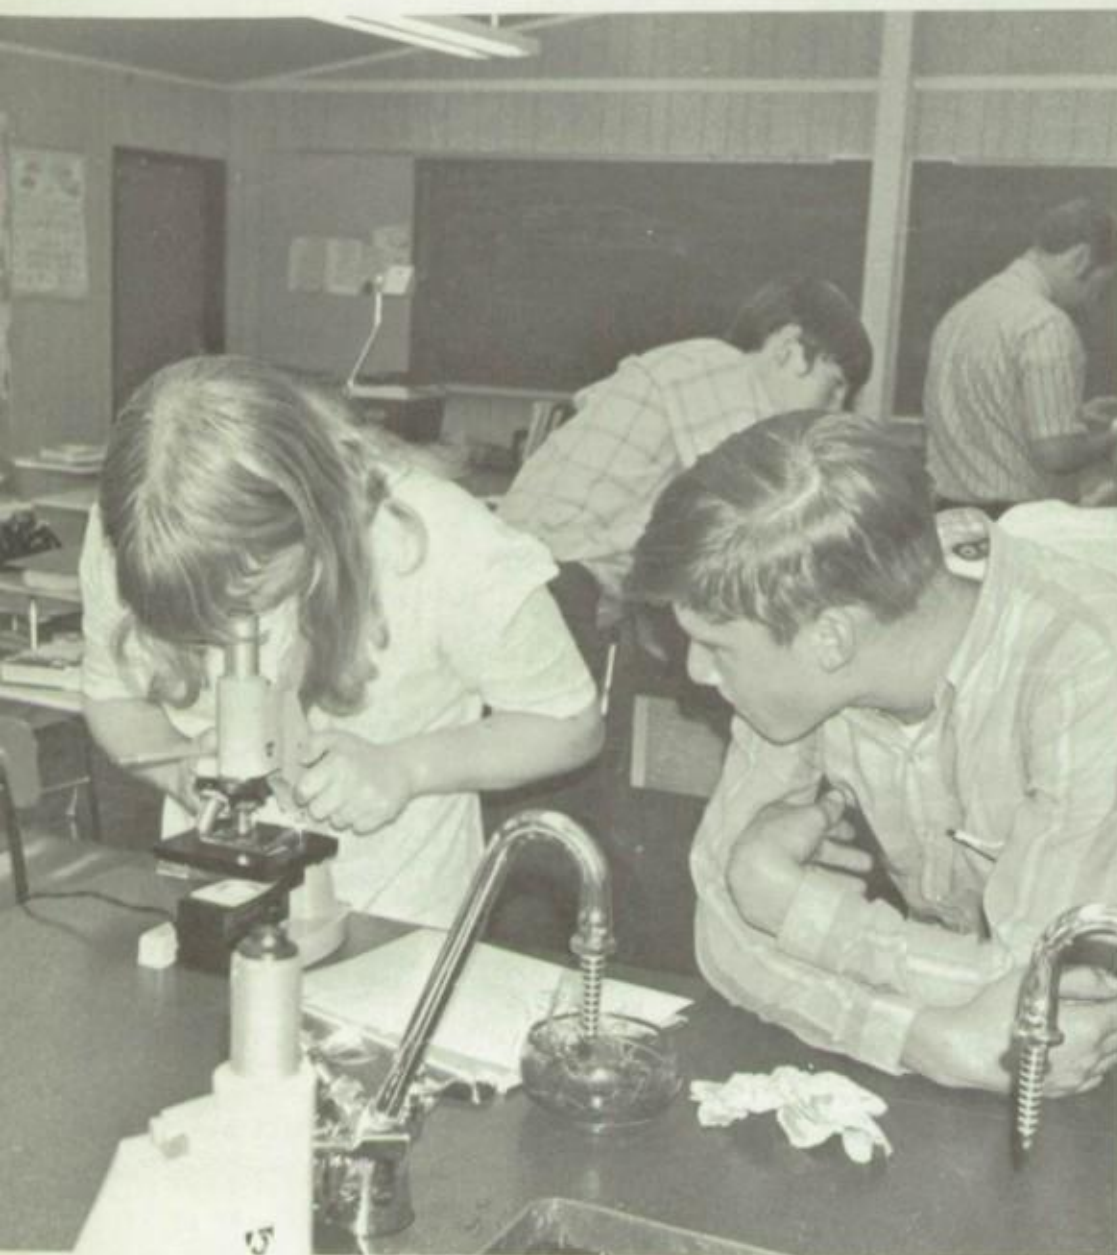

Mr. Robert Ganser: Junior High Boys Physical Education, Varsity Baseball Coach, Assistant Varsity Football Coach, 7-8-9 Grade Basketball Coach.

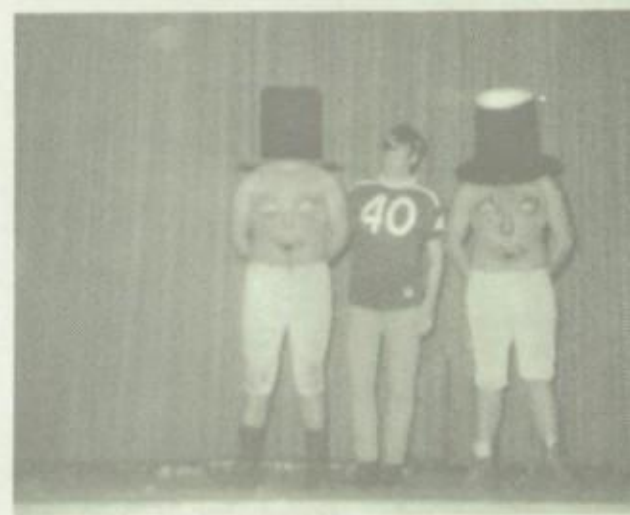

Mr. Jerry Connelly: Senior-Junior High Art, Junior Class Adviser.

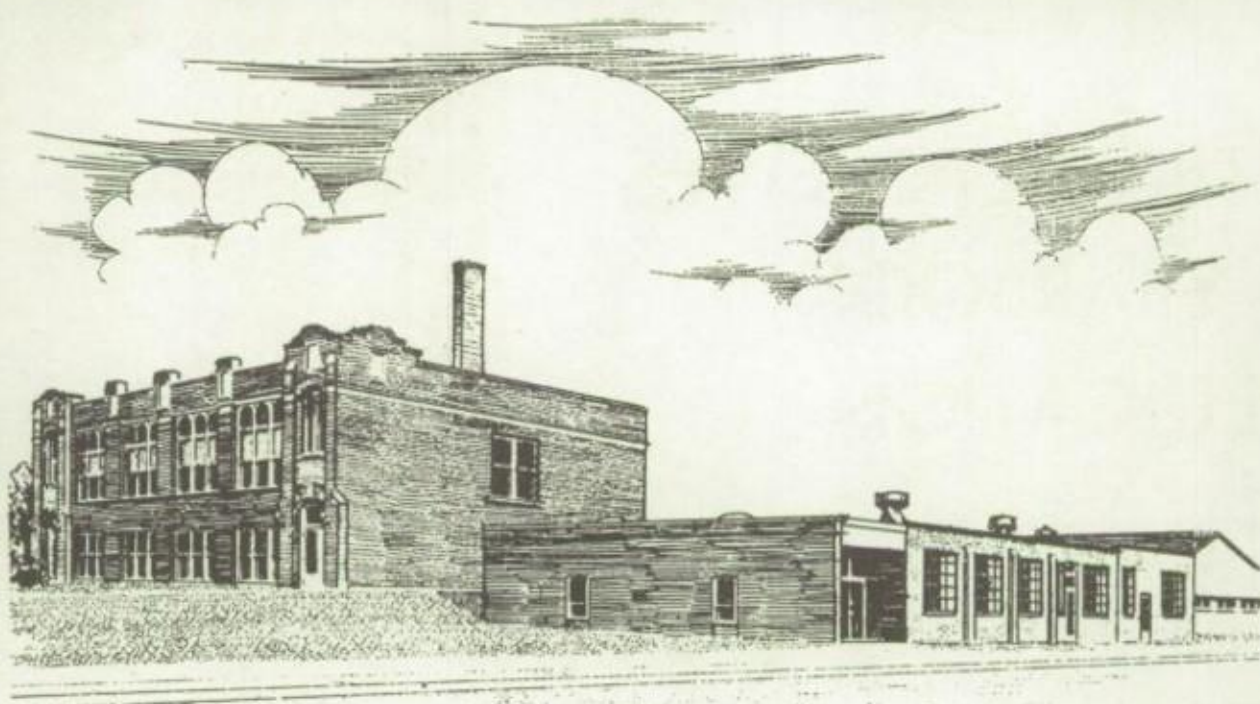

ART REFRESHES A WEARY IMAGINATION

Arts and crafts are among the most creative courses offered to the students of North Crawford. Students are given the opportunity to create with their hands that which exists in their minds. These courses teach students the appreciation of art by placing them in contact with it. Through these courses, students are able to put their skill and imagination to use and are given the opportunity to display their work in an annual spring art show.

Mrs. Janet Teach, Senior High Secretary

Mrs. Mary Campbell, Junior High Secretary

North Crawford's secretaries had individualized tasks which kept the school district operating efficiently. At the district office, Mrs. Irlbeck served as the district bookkeeper and Mrs. Carter was the secretary to Mr. Barnes, District Superintendent. At the senior high and junior high schools, Mrs. Teach and Mrs. Campbell were kept busy with the hall monitors, collecting money for many various reasons, keeping daily attendance records, taking care of incoming and outgoing mail, report card recordings, and many many other duties. Helping Mrs. Campbell at the junior high was Mrs. Collins, teacher aide.

JUNIOR HIGH COOKS: Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Skrede, Mrs. Lathrop, Mrs. Dull.

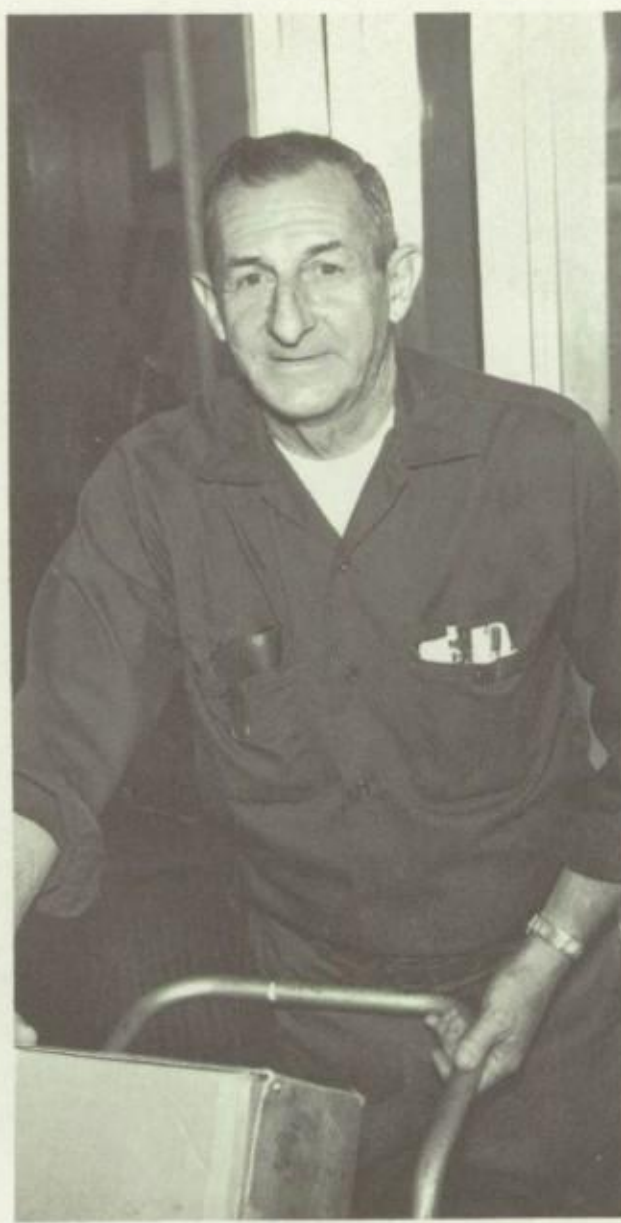

Those hunger-causing aromas that can be smelled in the halls every morning are undoubtedly produced by the hard-working cooking staff. Beginning early in the morning, the kitchen staff prepare and serve many breakfasts and lunches, not only for the high schools, but for other area schools within the district. Besides their regular cooking tasks, the cooks are often asked to serve dinners for sports banquets and other special events.

CUSTODIANS KEEP SCHOOLS IN TIP TOP SHAPE

Custodians keeping the junior high in tip top shape are Mr. Clyde Gander, Mr. Gordon Davenport and Mrs. Leo Gander.

North Crawford's custodial staff labors diligently to keep the school grounds and buildings looking in good, clean condition. Not only do they perform daily jobs of maintenance but also handle the minor crises of repair jobs which arise. The staff are always willing to help special groups in preparing and setting up for various activities and athletic events. These men and women deserve a special thanks for the somewhat endless work they do. Working long hours at night and during vacations, they provide us with clean and healthy surroundings.

STUDENTS OF NORTH CRAWFORD

Brightening the scene of everyday school life with ambition, ingenuity, resourcefulness, and spirit, we the students of North Crawford have proven to be the peppy pillar of our school. Aglow with the excitement of high school life, we have followed N.C.'s traditions enthusiastically and have proven to be creative and ingenious in our lightheartedness. Accepting North Crawford as a great part of our lives, we have been caught up and involved in school activities. We listen, we learn, we engage in, and we complete.

College Selection: A Senior-Size Decision

The Kickapoo Valley's snow is the first snow that Roberto Carneiro, North Crawford's foreign exchange student, has ever seen. Spending his school vacation at the Wendell Showen home, Roberto enjoys the snow and its many activities that it provides. However, he does not particularly like the cold weather.

Roberto is from Recife, Brazil, Brazil's third largest city. His father operates a bakery in Recife. The Showen family consider Roberto as part of their regular family. He goes to the barn and helps with the chores. Mr. Showen feels that students from foreign countries who spend their vacations in America are better off by spending their vacation time in small towns or on farms where they are able to get a better and true picture of America.

Language was not a major problem with Roberto and the students and faculty at NCHS. He was able to speak very little English when he first arrived, however, he caught on rapidly and was able to converse with others if they spoke slowly and distinctly. Roberto speaks Portuguese, Brazil's native language.

INTERESTS AND SPIRIT

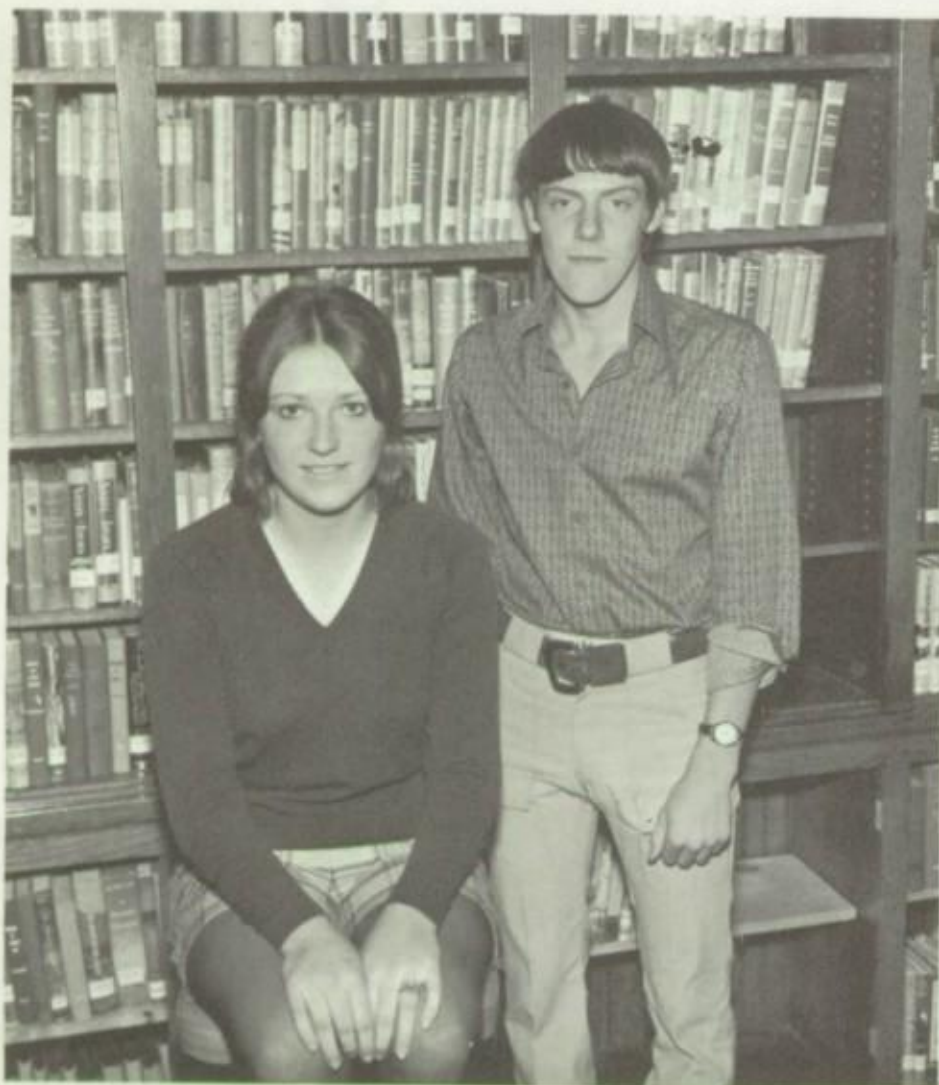

Student life, the spotlight that illuminates a student's special interests and brightens his social commiculum. In a sunburst variety of colorful activities, the student can express himself creatively and sensitively or impulsively and passionately. Only in extracurricular activities has the student such a complete choice of what he cares to do. He chooses what is right for him, and actively pursues his desires and goals, and sets a pattern for his future.

TIM KUZNIAR HONORED FOR HIGH NMSQT TEST SCORE

Tim Kuzniar, son of Mr. & Mrs. Stanley Kuzniar of Gays Mills, received a letter of commendation honoring him for his high performance on the 1970 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. Tim was among 35,000 students in the United States who ranked in the upper two per cent of those expecting to graduate from high school in 1971. A total of 710,000 students from over 17,000 high schools throughout the country took the test. Although commended students advance no further in merit scholarship competition, their standing deserves public recognition and their high performance gives promise to continued success in college.

SENIOR CLASS PERSONALITIES

BIGGEST CONTRIBUTORS

No, chivalry is not back at North Crawford. It's only a little cleaning and tidying up by the senior class biggest contributors, John Drake and Pym Byl.

Testing the aerodynamics of her paper plane and catching up on some heavy reading for English are seniors most likely to succeed, Donna Murphy and Tim Kuzniar.

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED

MOST POPULAR

Signing many autographs that constantly seem to pour in are most popular seniors, Jane Gorman and Greg Monahan.

MOST CONGENIAL

Always smiling and having a pleasant personality is most congenial senior, Margaret Stussy.

"As the boys watch the girls as the girls watch the boys as the girls walk by . . ." is a familiar saying to best looking seniors, Martha Lysne and Mark Lathrop.

BEST LOOKING

Don't worry Steve, it's only a short drop down. Class clowns Jane Gorman and Steve Swiggum live up to their title.

CLASS CLOWNS

SLOWEST

Taking "five" between classes is slowest senior, Denny Ryan. You should see him when he takes "ten."

A flower for my love (my love for today, that is) are class flirts, Denise Olson and Randy Hillman.

CLASS FLIRTS

Where you find Wally more than likely you will find Melon Head. The inseparable pair, known to most as the class couple, are John Drake and Pat Walsh.

CLASS COUPLE

BEST DRESSED

Chosen as seniors with the best "duds" are best dressed, Don Peterson and Jeanie Thoftne.

MOST CONCEITED

"That's it fans, down on your knees," orders most conceited senior, Randy Hillman.

MOST SCHOOL SPIRIT

"T-R-O-J-A-N-S, Yes! Yes! Yes!" cheer most school spirited seniors, Denny Ryan and Susie Paulson.

MOST TALKATIVE

"Give me the phone." "No, give me the phone," argue most talkative seniors, Wanda Everson and Mike Hirschfield.

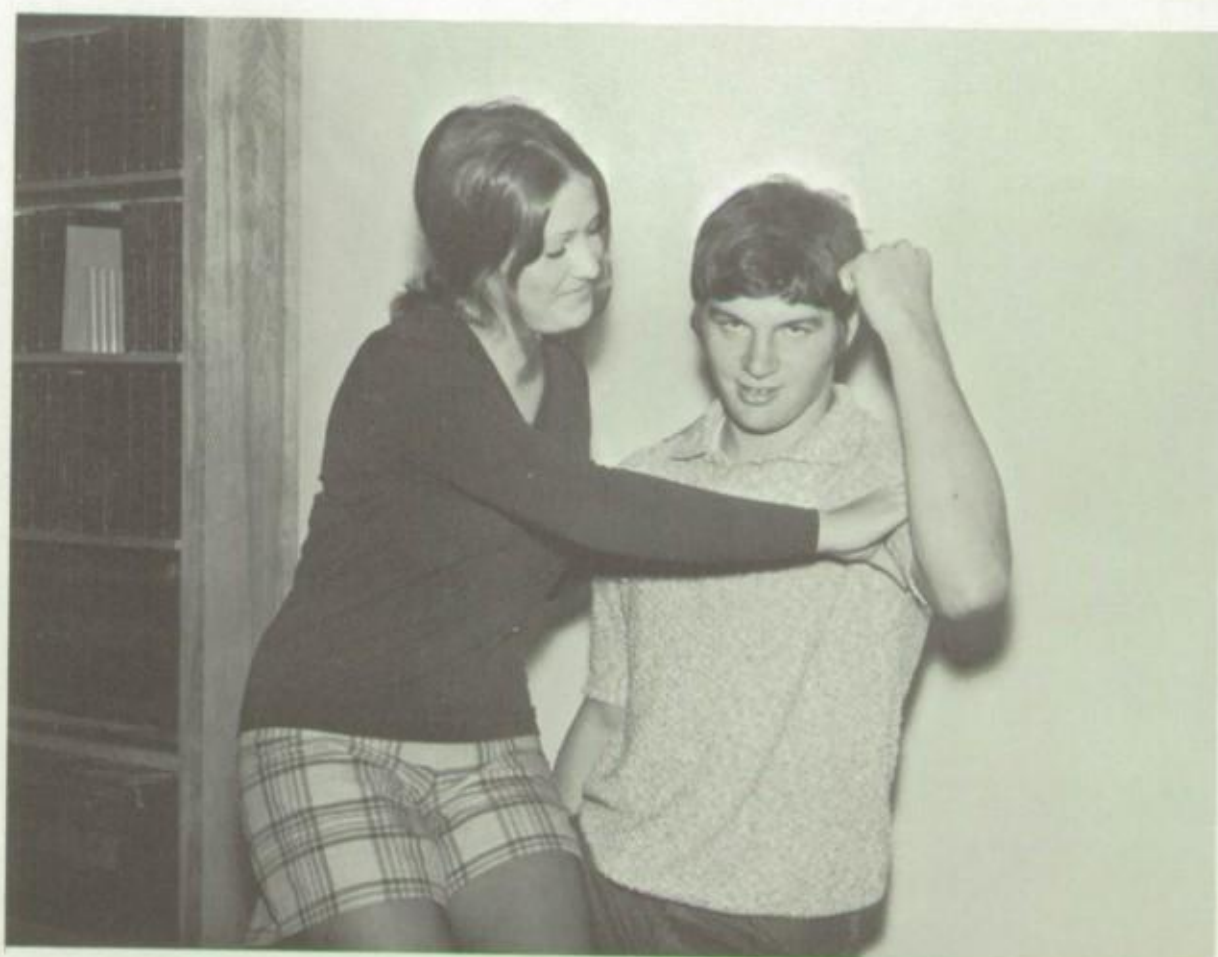

MOST TALENTED

Eyes on the book, feet flat on the floor, sit back in your chair, and fingers on the home row seem not to apply to most talented boy, John Drake, as most talented girl, Pam Moore, gives instructions.

BEST BUILT

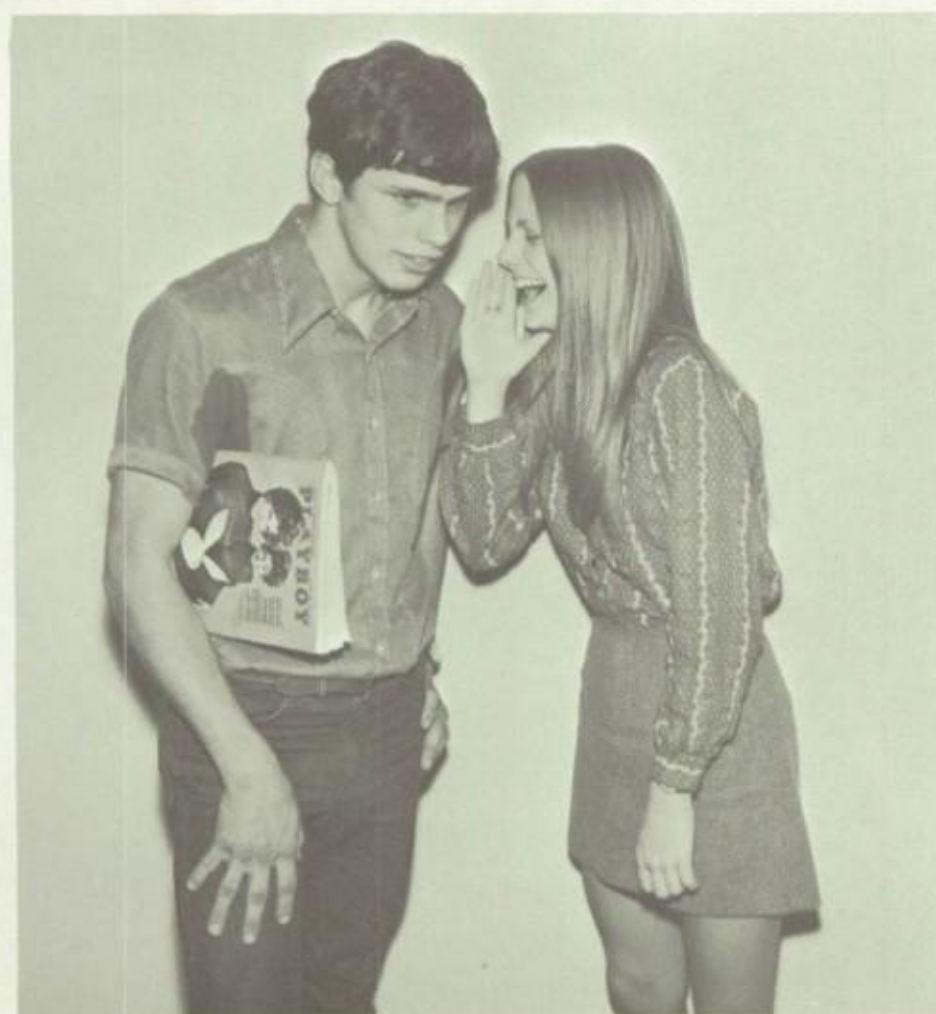

"Oh! What muscles you have, Sig." "Oh! What a figure you have, Denise," are compliments made to each other by best figure for senior girl, Denise Olson, and best physique for a senior boy, Sig Chestelson.

MOST QUIET

"Shhhhhh. Don't say such things," says most quiet senior girl, Joy Sulzer, to most quiet senior boy, Randy Sherry.

"Say, Buck, have you heard the latest . . ." says class gossip, Kitty Dull to the class delinquent, Mark Murphy, before he settles down to some heavy reading—or picture looking.

CLASS GOSSIP & CLASS DELINQUENT

Could it be Lucy up to her old football tricks with Charlie Brown. No, it's most athletic seniors, Susie Banta and Pat Walsh.

MARK LATHROP AND MARTHA LYSNE CHOSEN 1970 HOMECOMING KING AND QUEEN

The 1970-71 Homecoming King and Queen, Mark Lathrop and Martha Lysne, reigned over the traditional festivities at North Crawford. "Let It Be" was the theme selected by the Student Council for this year's homecoming events. Representing the senior class were Martha Lysne and Mark Lathrop; Denise Olson and John Karrigan; and Maureen Helgerson and Ted Schoville. Junior class representatives were Sherrie Campbell and Gary Hines; sophomore class representatives were Diane Maves and Tom Barnes; and representing the freshmen class were Lynn Young and Bob Featherston.

The festivities began Thursday evening, October 8, with the traditional pep rally, snake dance, and bon fire. Friday's events started with the students full of pep. By the end of the day, however, a blanket of sorrow covered the events with the Hillsboro Tigers defeating the Trojans, 36-8. The cold, damp weather also played its part Friday night. Following the game, Mark Lathrop and Martha Lysne were crowned the 1970 Homecoming King and Queen at the dance in the community building—music provided by "The Last Draft" of LaCrosse. In the parade and skits Friday afternoon, the freshmen class took all honors—placing first with their parade float, "We'll Tame the Tigers," and in the skit competition. The sophomore class placed second with their float and the French Club taking third place. This, was Homecoming 1970 at North Crawford.

"AGE OF AQUARIUS," PROM THEME FOR KING JOHN DRAKE-QUEEN LAURA NICOLAI

The social event of the year at North Crawford High is the Junior Prom. The class spends many hours working and planning the dance—spending many hours after school and at nights working in the gym decorating almost everything in sight. "The Age of Aquarius" was the theme chosen by the class. Selected by his classmates to serve as King was John Drake. Laura Nicolai was chosen by John as Queen.

BIG GADGON

"Brigadoon", a musical play by Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe, was presented by the students and faculty of North Crawford in the spring of 1970. More than 70 cast members and a crew of over 40 students were involved in the production of the musical play. Students having leading parts were Kitty Dull as Fiona MacLaren, Mark Olson as Tommy Allbright, Ralph Quamme as Jeff Douglas, Maureen Jameson as Meg Brockie, Greg Heine as Charlie Dalrymple, Tim Kuzniar as Mr. Lundie, John Drake as Harry Beaton, Dean Olson as Archie Beaton, Stan Quamme as Mr. MacLaren, and Julie Coher as Jean MacLaren. Directing, guiding, and assisting in the production were faculty members Mr. Pratt, Mrs. Kegel, Mr. Albert, Mr. Van Auken, Mr. Winsor, Mrs. Solberg, Mr. Schuth, Mr. Kvigne, Mr. Schick, Mrs. Davig, and Mr. Natwick. This was the fifth musical play that has been presented at North Crawford. Other plays were "The Sound of Music", "The Music Man", "Call Me Madam", and "Cinderella". The experience and knowledge that is gained through the production of musical plays is something that will never be forgotten by those who are directly involved. In the following pictures, UPPER LEFT: Tommy Allbright (Mark Olson) and Jeff Douglas (Ralph Quamme) become lost in a forest in the Scottish Highlands. LOWER LEFT: Townspeople gather to mourn the death of Harry Beaton (John Drake) after the chase. CENTER: "Down On MacConnachy Square" is sung by the townspeople of Brigadoon. RIGHT: Meg Brockie (Maureen Jameson) tries her best to win the courtship and approval of Jeff Douglas (Ralph Quamme) in her father's shed where Jeff spends the first night in Brigadoon.

A ALAN JAY LERNER FREDRICK LOEWE MUSICAL PLAY

RIGHT: Townspeople of Brigadoon purchase refreshments from Angus MacGuffie (Dennis Bell) and Meg Brockie (Maureen Jameson) at a stand near MacConnachy Square. LOWER LEFT: Fiona MacLaren (Kitty Dull) and townspeople sing "Watin' For My Dearie." LOWER RIGHT: People of Brigadoon search the forest for Harry Beaton. "From This Day On" is sung by Fiona MacLaren (Kitty Dull) and Tommy Allbright (Mark Olson).

Brigadoon is the story of two Americans who are lost in the Scottish Highlands and stumble upon a village not on the map called "Brigadoon." One of the two Americans falls in love with a girl of the village. The miracle of "Brigadoon" is told to the young Americans and then the village disappears again for another one hundred years parting the two young lovers. The story proves that "when ye love someone deeply, anythin' is possible." In the following pictures, the girls of Brigadoon sing "Jeannie's Pacing Up". In the pictures above, the townspeople gather for the wedding and celebration of the wedding of Jean MacLaren (Julie Coher) and Charlie Darlymple (Greg Heine).

BELOW: Serving on the TROJAN staff for two years are seniors John Drake, Mike Pettit, Pam Moore, Susan Lightfoot, and Linda Latham.

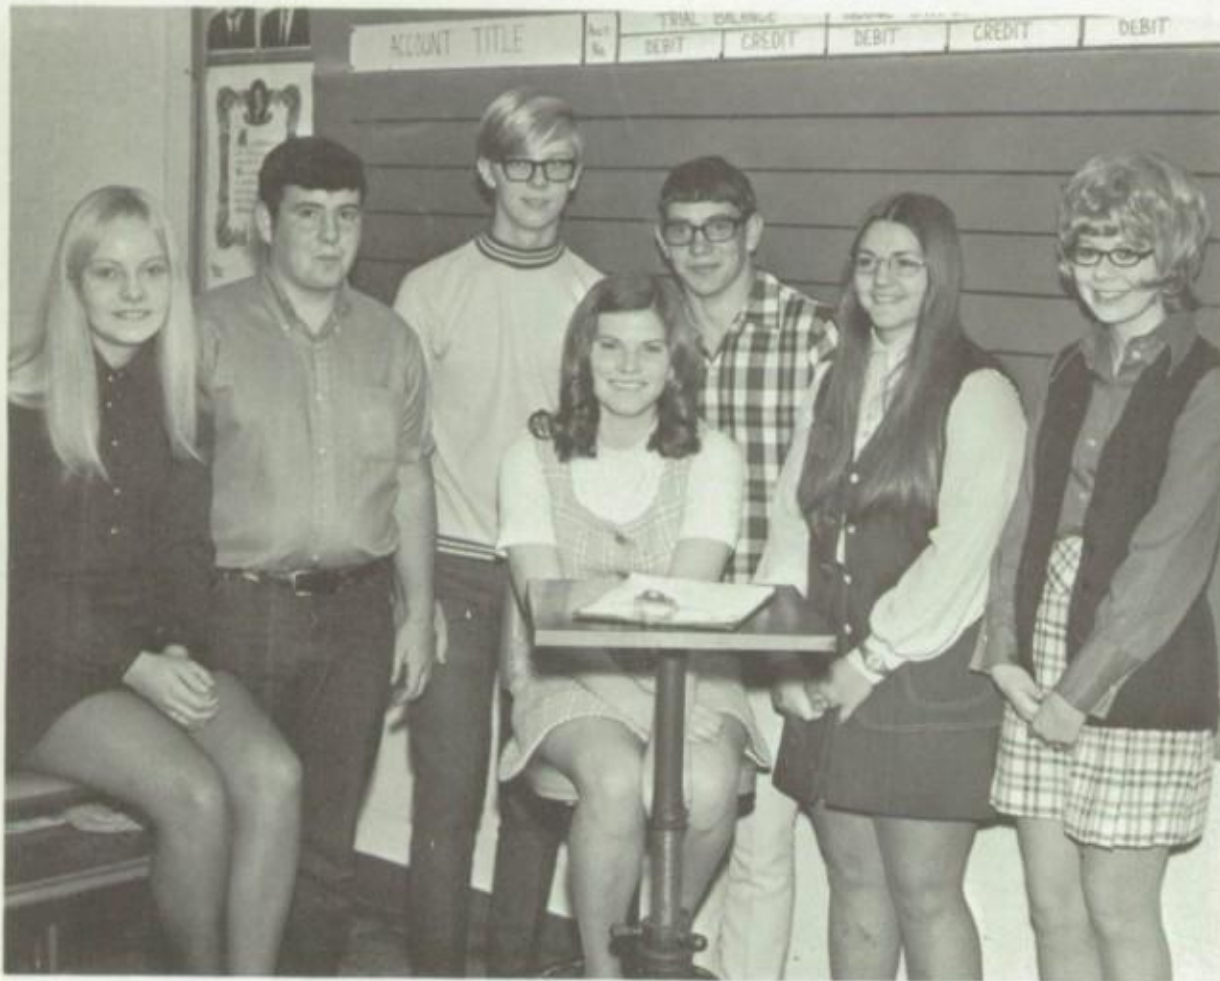

To the twenty-six members of the TROJAN staff, meetings and gatherings in Room 104 were not just fun—it was also hard work. Advertising had to be planned and sold, pictures to be scheduled and taken, pages to be drawn, and copy had to be written in order to meet deadlines.

Room 104 became a place of many activities; it provided a place where students and staff members planned the book. Classrooms, teachers, friends, extra curricular involvement—all these make up the life of the student. At present these memories of North Crawford are vivid; in a few years they will become dim. The TROJAN 71 staff has attempted to capture in one small book the elusive characters of this school and its students—into a book unlike any that have gone before it.

YEARBOOK MEMBERS PARTY GIVEN TO

At a yearbook staff party, do the members discuss yearbook planning, techniques, and financing? Hardly! Everything but the yearbook is talked about—it is a time to relax and forget the many problems and troubles of publishing a book.

The annual Christmas yearbook party was held again this year at Mr. Schuth's apartment in Soldiers Grove. Food, singing, tape recordings, food, joke time, gossip, food, dancing, magazines, food, and more food were enjoyed by the staff. The food committee, under the chairmanship of Maureen Helgersen, did not let the staff down—nothing was forgotten and the food was great!

For the junior staff members, there is still another year to look forward to—a year when they will have their senior book. For the senior members, the school year is almost over with . . . no more 3:30's and final bells . . . friends say good-bye . . . their is the lonely trip down deserted halls . . . the last, long bus ride home . . . these memories are preserved through pictures and words in TROJAN 71.
